The Ship

By WILLIAM WORDSWORTH.

Other selections from this author, his portrait, autograph and biographical sketch, have already been printed in this series.

Where lies the land to which you ship must go?

Festively she puts forth in trim array;

As vigorous as a lark at break of day

Is she for tropic suns, or polar snow?

What boots the inquiry? Neither friend nor foe

She cares for; let her travel where she may,

She finds familiar names, a beaten way

Ever before her, and a wind to blow

Yet still I ask, what haven is her mark?

And, almost as it was when ships were rare,

(From time to time, like pilgrims, here and there

Cross the waters) doubt, and something dark,

Of the old sea some reverential fear,

Is with me at thy farewell, joyous bark!

This series began in The Times-Dispatch Sunday, Oct. 11, 1904. One is published each day.
